

Cornwallis' Client to row the Atlantic!

Friday October 14th 2005

In November 2005, a valued client of Cornwallis, Nick Rowe of Standard Chartered Bank will be rowing across the Atlantic ocean with long time friend Al Howard in a 22 foot purpose built rowing boat called "Gurkha Spirit" (see below).

This represents an epic challenge of both physical and mental endurance and notably one completed by less people than have climbed Everest! It is also a fantastic way of raising money for charitable causes and Cornwallis Elt is proud to be involved with Nick and to be making a sponsorship contribution.
